About us

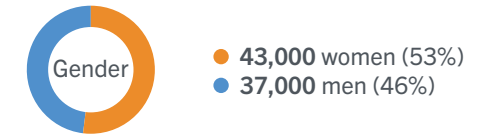

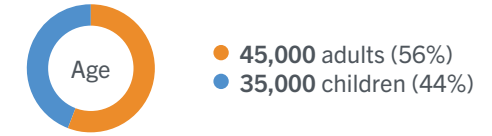

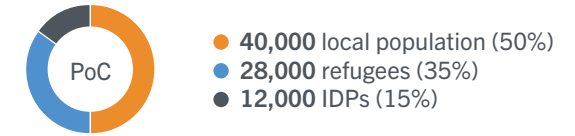

LWF Cameroon supports vulnerable people, including Nigerian and Central African refugees, internally displaced persons and host populations. It advocates for their rights to access drinking water, the job market, the informal economy and children’s education. Activities also cover agricultural production, youth training, sanitation and hygiene, and the promotion of peace and social cohesion, as well as environmental protection.

Who we work with

In 2022, LWF Cameroon supported more than 80,000 Persons of Concern (PoC)

“We have shade from the sun, the soil has improved and the trees attract water” says Lydia Youcoubou, a Nigerian refugee.

In three years, refugees transformed a desert landscape in Minawao into a lush green oasis with the support of the LWF and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR).

Our impact

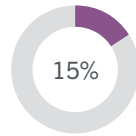

LWF Cameroon's work relies on three programmatic areas: Livelihoods, Quality Services and Protection & Social Cohesion. Additionally, the country program focuses on Gender Justice and Climate Justice as focus areas to increase operations' impact. These programmatic areas underlie our 2019-2024 global strategy and represented an investment of 1.2 million Euros in 2022 in Cameroon.

Livelihoods

Quality Services

Protection and social cohesion

LIVELIHOODS

418 hectares of crops sown resulting in a production of 3,115 tons of food.
210 out-of-school young people participated in vocational trainings to access decent job opportunities, self-employment and entrepreneurship.

QUALITY SERVICES

25,012 people gained access to drinking water through the construction or rehabilitation of water infrastructures.
14,509 households participated in climate change activities.

PROTECTION & SOCIAL COHESION

13,974 people were reached by community awareness campaigns.
88% of the conflicts recorded were resolved.

CROSS-CUTTING FOCUS AREAS

Gender justice
 Climate justice
 Inclusion of all stakeholders
 Popularization of complaint mechanisms

To respond to the lack of drinkable water, LWF, in partnership with the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, has set up seven boreholes with solar-powered hybrid pumping systems in the Minawao Nigerian refugee camp and the surrounding localities.

The solar-powered water systems significantly increased the amount of quality drinking water supplies in the camp. They are close to meeting the standard requirements of 20 liters of water per person per day. This system has also made it possible to reduce the fuel consumption of the electric generators initially installed at the seven boreholes.
